

Marciano Kayos Charles In Eighth, Retains Heavy Title

Blows To Jaw Floor Game Challenger

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP) — Blood-spattered Rocky Marciano, warned three times for punching after the bell, floored Ezzard Charles three times in a savage attack and knocked out the ex-champion in 2:36 of the eighth round tonight in the fourth defense of his prized world heavy-weight title.

With blood flowing from a gashed nose and right eye, the unbeaten titleholder swarmed to the kill with a barrage of punches that ended Charles' fond dreams of becoming the first former champ to win back the championship.

Down for a two-count in the second round, Charles fought back gamely under heavy fire until he was sunk for keeps in the fierce eighth.

A thunderous right hand punch to the jaw midway in the eighth sent the Cincinnati Negro sprawling on his side under the ropes. He bounced up quickly at the count of two but was badly hurt.

Determined not to let Charles escape again, the swarthy Brockton, Mass. slugger loosed a barrage of punches with both hands.

Charles sank to his knees under a left-right-left attack and it seemed certain he would never get up.

Blinking while Referee Al Bertolotto tolled the count, Charles made a last gasp effort to rise after nine. He still was getting up when Bertolotto shouted "ten" and motioned that the Yankee Stadium fight was finished.

A swarm of Rocky's admirers poured into the working press section at the sudden ending and his father kissed him in midring.

Marciano bled from the nose in the third and suffered a deep cut at the tip of the nose in the sixth. In the eighth, the left eye that was cut in the first fight, June 17, again was cut.

Mrs. Clark Indicted In Mate's Death

LAWRENCE, Mass., Sept. 17 (AP) — Mrs. Lorraine Clark, 28, attractive mother of three children, was indicted today on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying last April 10 of her husband, Melvin W. Clark Jr., 29.

An Essex County grand jury returned the indictment—the first for murder against a woman in the county in 21 years—after hearing 30 witnesses and a reading of a three-page statement which Dist. Atty. Hugh A. Clegg said was her confession.

Conviction on a first degree murder charge carries a maximum penalty of death.

Clegg said she will be arraigned in the Superior Court here some time next week. She has been held without bail in the Essex County jail at Salem.

The grand jury of 19—including four women—charged that the brunette, a former waitress in an Amesbury diner, "on April 10 did assault and beat Melvin W. Clark, the younger, and by such assault and beating did kill and murder Melvin W. Clark, the younger."

Mrs. Clark was arrested June 26 after Clegg said she signed the statement following 14 hours of questioning.

He quoted her as telling investigators she carried the body from their home at Lake Attitash in their convertible car to the Rocks Island Bridge where it was dumped into the river.

An unidentified bridgekeeper discovered the body three weeks later. An autopsy disclosed that Clark had been shot twice in the head, bound with rubber-covered electrician's wire. It had been weighted with three small anchors.

Union Given Opportunity To Show Cause Why Court Should Not Dismiss Action

ATTORNEYS FOR THE UNION were given an opportunity yesterday to show cause why the union's petition for clarification of the court ruling in the YMCA dispute should not be dismissed.

Judge Fred W. Davis ordered the prothonotary's office to let the rule issue, giving the petitioner until next term of court to show cause. Judge Davis originally handed down a decision in favor of H. L. Cleveland, a Y sub-contractor, granting an injunction against union picketing of the work on the new Y building in Stroudsburg.

Union attorney F. W. Mervine then filed a petition asking the court to clarify the ruling. This petition was countered by a "motion to dismiss" the petition filed by Cleveland's attorneys, Elmer Christine and Walter Olenick.

In yesterday's development, Judge Davis, in effect, gave the union a chance to give its reasons for consideration of the petition to show cause why the motion to dismiss should not be granted.

The union involved is Local 655, United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the U. S. and Canada. The parent union and local business agent Ralph Paul are co-defendants in the litigation.

Pope Pius Not Yet Fully Recovered From Illness, May Be Well By November

By RICHARD EHRMAN

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Sept. 17 (AP) — Pope Pius XII, looking pale and tired, said today he is not yet fully recovered from the grave illness that confined him to his apartment early this year.

Talking to this reporter, who attended his general audience today, the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said he is still suffering.

As he expressed it: My burden in the care of my flock is immense.

He said doctors had advised him that by November he should be fully recovered, but he hoped his recovery will not take long.

When the reporter explained that he was from The Associated Press the Pope gave his blessing to The AP.

The pontiff, tired from the intensive program of audiences that he has been having during the past three months, sat as he spoke to 250 members of a medical conference for about 15 minutes. However, the very fact that he appeared and spoke indicated there is no serious concern over his health at this moment.

Before the audience today, Prof. Adalberto Pazzini of Italy, president of the Medical Congress, was called into another room and told "not to keep the Pope too long. His condition is not good."

However, the Pope remained in the audience chamber long enough to speak individually to several delegates. He addressed one in Portuguese and another in Spanish. His address to the group was given in French. He read his speech from typewritten sheets. Near the end, his hands shook slightly, and his voice at times faded.

At the end, he sat for several seconds, seeming out of breath.

Allergy Gives Woman Divorce

SEATTLE, Sept. 17 (AP) — Zelma H. Ashley got a divorce yesterday because she was allergic to her husband.

She told Superior Judge Malcolm Douglas that her face broke out "all over" in a rash because of the way her husband, Lonnie, treated her.

The rash cleared right up, though, she said, when they separated.

Kentucky Bank Cashier Covers $417,000 In Customers' Bad Checks, Closing Bank

WHITESVILLE, Ky., Sept. 17 (AP) — Calls of sympathy today poured into the home of Bernard Barrett, a kind-hearted cashier who let $417,000 in bad checks pile up and close his bank.

There were no immediate offers of assistance, however, from the depositors who benefited from his generosity.

The mild-mannered Barrett, 51, a church-going leader in this western Kentucky community of 750 persons, said he received no personal profit from the transactions. He was charged with misapplying the bank's funds and was free under bond of $25,000.

Wilburn Simpson, president of the bank, said the check-writers were known and that a couple of those more deeply involved had assets that gave hope for recovery of much of the shortage.

"I understand the law to be that anyone who knowingly issues checks against insufficient funds is a party to the crime," Simpson said. "I feel we can make substantial recoveries."

Simpson himself described Barrett as a man "regarded by everybody as absolutely tops in the community—the last man in the whole town you'd expect something like this to happen to."

He said the bank's closing created no unusual excitement because the depositors knew their money was well protected.

He explained that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. covered deposits up to $10,000 and there were few depositors over $10,000 in a town as small as Whitesville. On top of that, Barrett's bond covers $50,000.

Barrett stated simply that he "had the habit of indulging our customers" by "holding checks for different people." He said he had no idea the amount was so great, and that he expected the checks to be made good.

State bank examiners, FDIC representatives and FBI agents closed themselves up in conferences on the situation. They gave out no details.

Dulles, Eden In Agreement On Germany

By ARTHUR GAYSHON

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP) — The United States and Britain agreed tonight on quick action to bring West Germany into the Atlantic alliance on a basis of full equality. France has promised support, in principle at least, for this move.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden wound up a 3½-hour session at the Foreign Office by issuing a call for a speedy conference to consider how best to associate the West German with the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Dulles then took off for Washington.

NATO headquarters in Paris promptly announced foreign ministers of the member countries would meet about Oct. 15 to take up the problem. The exact date and place of the talks have not yet been agreed on, but Paris has been frequently mentioned as the most likely spot.

The British Foreign Office also announced Britain will issue invitations at once for a meeting here the next week after next of the United States, Britain, Canada, France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg to study the question.

Officials here doubt whether these two meetings will be enough to settle all the delicate questions involved in restoring sovereignty to the Germans. They said others might have to follow.

Diplomatic sources said the British-American agreement became possible with Eden's disclosure of the French conditional promise to go along on Germany's entry into the Western alliance.

These sources said French Premier Pierre Mendes-France assured Eden yesterday he would accept the principle of German rearmament within NATO provided:

1. He receives pledges that British and American troops will be kept in Europe.

2. Firm safeguards are adopted against the possibility of runaway German rearmament.

3. These controls are written into a new European alliance among France, Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Dulles' meeting with Eden climaxed a week of intense diplomatic activity among the Allies.

The American secretary flew in to London earlier today from Bonn. He and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared there that West Germany's equal participation in a Western collective security system should be considered and translated into concrete action "as soon as practicable."

On his arrival here, Dulles told airport reporters a "grave situation" faced Europe as a result of France's rejection of the European Defense Community treaty. The EDC pact had been designed to provide for limited German rearmament.

Two Arrested In $520,259 Bank Shortage

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17 (AP) — FBI agents tonight arrested two West Virginia businessmen in connection with a recent shortage of $520,259 discovered at the First National Bank at Fairmont, W.Va.

They were identified as John Manchin, operator of a large furniture and grocery store at Farmington, W.Va., and Lee S. Ford, 46, president of the Hammond Brick Co. at Grafton, W.Va.

Fred Halford, special agent in charge of the FBI here, also announced that John W. Meredith, former cashier of the bank, was rearrested in connection with the case. He had been free on $20,000 bond since he was arrested Aug. 12. At the time he was charged with making false entries of the bank's records and misapplication of the bank's funds, involving a total of $25,540.

Godfrey Gets License Back

TETERBORO, N. J., Sept. 17 (AP) — Arthur Godfrey got his pilot's license back today after an hour and 15 minute flight test.

The radio and TV star said it felt "very, very good" to get back into the air and fly a plane again.

"It's like an old shoe," he added, "when you put it on, it fits."

Godfrey took off from Teterboro Airport in his private DC-3 twin-engine plane at 2:15 (EST) for the flight test required before he could regain his license. The Civil Aeronautics Board revoked Godfrey's pilot's license six months ago for reckless flying.

Godfrey said he planned to fly to his home in Virginia tonight.

Truman Calls For Election Of Democrats; Nixon Says Real Issue Is Ike Vs. Truman

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 17 (AP) — Harry S. Truman asked the American people today to give President Eisenhower a Democratic Congress in the "hope that we can save him from the misdeeds of his own party."

In a letter to Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, the former President said, "the worst thing the Republicans have done is to weaken the position of the free nations in the fight against Communist imperialism." Eisenhower, he said, needs a Democratic Congress in order to "go down in history as a successful president, who helped to save the free world."

Mitchell released the letter at a news conference as Democratic leaders headed into a strategy session to chart their campaign to toss the GOP out of control of Congress in the November election.

The chairman told newsmen the tide is running for party candidates and "gaining momentum." "Generally speaking," he said, "I think we have in the making the greatest Democratic sweep since 1936."

That was the presidential election year in which the GOP salvaged only Maine and Vermont from a Roosevelt landslide.

While Mitchell contends the Democrats may take some 40 House seats from the Republicans, he described the scrap for control of the Senate as still unsettled and "awfully close."

The chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, had an even more optimistic forecast than Mitchell on House contests. He said in an interview: "We can't help but pick up 60 seats at the minimum."

Paul M. Butler, Democratic national committeeman for Indiana, mentioned the same figure. Butler is being mentioned among others, as a possible successor when Mitchell steps down as national chairman after the November balloting.

The House now has 218 Republican members, 213 Democrats, one Independent and three empty seats. The Senate lineup is 48 Republicans, 47 Democrats and one Independent.

Truman had hoped to attend the Democratic rally here launching the Democratic drive to regain control of Congress. But he still is recuperating from a June operation and will make only one major campaign speech, at Kansas City Oct. 16.

In his letter to Mitchell he said there never was a time when the country "needed a Democratic victory more than it does this year."

Two Americans Believed Held By Czech Reds

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 17 (AP) — The U. S. Army announced tonight that two American soldiers were "presumably" abducted by Communist Czech border guards this morning.

It was the third border incident during the last nine days involving American soldiers in the general area around Hof. On Sept. 9, a Communist East German border patrol fired on American troops. Four days later a Czech border patrol did the same thing.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17 (AP) — Vice President Nixon said tonight the real 1954 election issue was the Eisenhower record versus a return to Trumanism.

Nixon told a $109-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner that in less than two years the American people have regained their historic birthright as free people which they had exchanged for a "mes of potage."

"How the Eisenhower administration performed, therefore, is the major issue in this campaign," Nixon said in a prepared speech. "There is no other real issue. And the opposition spokesmen know this."

"The prophets of gloom and doom first predicted a Republican depression. But the rug was pulled out from under them when the depression didn't come off."

"Now all they offer the American people is a sterile, negative campaign based on name calling and unfounded smear. They have had to admit that all they can offer is a return to Trumanism."

Obviously tired by three days of vigorous campaigning in the Midwest but still smiling, Nixon arrived here by chartered plane from Nevada, Mo., where earlier in the day he said the Eisenhower administration deserves a vote of confidence and a Republican Congress in November because it ended the Korean War and brought new hope to a free world.

At a press conference soon after his arrival here, he said the Republicans could take a major lesson from the recent Maine election but he wasn't sure whether the results there indicated any nationwide trend. He said the lesson Republicans should learn from the Maine vote was the necessity of unity and organization.

In Kansas and Missouri where he has spent the last two days, Nixon said he found farmers more concerned with the drought than with flexible farm price supports. He said the recent relaxation of acreage control of land taken out of surplus crop production had apparently stopped much objection to flexible parity.

Nixon said the Eisenhower administration was continuing to work on the drought problem and he expressed the opinion it would be solved. He did not elaborate.

In Nevada, he said the administration deserved "a vote of confidence."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today the American people very likely will not follow advice from former President Truman.

Eisenhower ordered the Department of Commerce to make an immediate study of the recommendation, Weissman said. Shortly after this, the Federal government made more than $45 million in highway aid funds available to Pennsylvania, effective July 1, Weissman said.

Three Steps Proposed For Monroe County

A "PACKAGE" highway program for Northeastern Pennsylvania was worked out at a meeting yesterday of a group of area business and civic leaders at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The group met at the invitation of the Northeast Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission's Highway Committee.

Joseph L. Maguire, Pottsville, was chairman of the group. He listed several projects which would create jobs for idle workers in the region and provide badly needed transportation facilities for expanding industry and the area's increasing recreational program.

For Monroe County, the group advocated the following measures:

One—Re-routing Route 611... to minimize traffic congestion in Stroudsburg's business district.

Two—Rehabilitation of Route 12 and 209 toward Easton and

Three—Early reconsideration of the Pocono Mountain "Memorial Rim Parkway."

These proposals... and others made by the group... will be submitted to regional members of the General Assembly next week, a spokesman said.

Among the other recommendations were:

Luzerne County — Widening and resurfacing Route 29 in the Hazleton area to Carbon county line with further reconstruction to Palmerton; A bypass around Free-land from Route 29 to Route 309; Reconstruction of Route 4018 from Carbon county through White Haven.

Schuylkill County — Complete connection with Northeast Turnpike Extension from Pottsville through Reading to Morgantown turnpike; Widening of Route 443 from New Ringgold to South Tamaqua through Lehigh, Weissport to the N.E. Turnpike Extension; Construction of a highway from Mahanoy County to Ashland.

Lackawanna County — Construction of a "belt expressway" around Scranton on the east and north tending in all routes to reduce downtown traffic congestion; Relocation of Route 106 four miles west of Carbondale; Authorization of Northern Tier Turnpike extension.

With the "package program" presented yesterday, Chairman Maguire said the NPIDC expects to gain clearance for several essential jobs under the 1954-55 State highway program.

The package includes more than a dozen projects and "could cost several hundreds of millions of dollars," Maguire said.

"It is very elementary that with the Federal and State governments recognizing our distressed labor situation with more than 80,000 unemployed, we can expect immediate, emergency clearance of some major projects before Jan. 1," Maguire continued.

"Our area represents more than one and a quarter million people and our motor clubs have memberships of upwards to 75,000 who are responsible with regional Chambers of Commerce, the Motor Truck Association and municipal and civic leaders everywhere," the NPIDC chairman pointed out.

When the NPIDC "task force," under leadership of Charles Weissman, Wilkes-Barre, met with President Eisenhower last May, the committee told the President that substantial highway projects would be the "quickest way to relieve Northeastern Pennsylvania's mounting employment problem," Weissman told the group yesterday.

Eisenhower ordered the Department of Commerce to make an immediate study of the recommendation, Weissman said. Shortly after this, the Federal government made more than $45 million in highway aid funds available to Pennsylvania, effective July 1, Weissman said.

Chairman Maguire said he would confer with others among the NPIDC top command to fix a date with members of the General Assembly before October at yesterday's meeting.

O'Neill, member of the committee and host for the meeting; LeRoy Dengler, Pocono Mountains Motor Club president; Bernard Blier, Scranton Chamber of Commerce; Thomas Morris, Pottsville Chamber; William Van Dyke, Hazleton, Anthracite Motor Club secretary; Walter Jones, Pottsville, Schuylkill Motor Club.

Rev. Luther Markin Observes 50th Anniversary As Pastor; Question Posed By Elderly Woman Slanted His Ministry

By N. E. Burd
DELAWARE WATER GAP — Fifty years in the ministry is a remarkable record, especially when made by one who determined in youth never to be a minister but to take up law. Rev. Luther Markin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here, changed from law to theology because he could not get away from the conviction that it was his duty to be a minister of the Gospel, and because he felt that in such a calling he could best serve the church and his fellow men.

He recalled that he has never regretted that step although since he began to preach at the age of twenty, in the village of Paragon, Ind., in 1904 he has found that the ministry has its share of disappointments and frustrations along with successes and pleasure. To him it is "the perfect calling—if only the minister were perfect."

Born in Indiana, he graduated from DePauw University in 1908, after he had been preaching four years. In 1908 he enrolled in Boston University School of Theology. While in New Hampshire he received from an elderly woman in his parish there, advice that slanted his whole ministry. She said, after he had administered a scolding, "Don't you ever do any good that you can talk about?" He realized then that people know their own faults; they need a builder not a critic. For seven of the last 50 years, Mr. Markin took up business life and part of that time he edited a newspaper. Living in both Midwest and East, he has found that people are people and the same in all localities. But he has seen great changes in preaching; that is in the type of evangelism. He saw the days of the sawdust trail and protracted meetings for revival, in his youth. Now, he believes, the mode of evangelism is personal work.

During the four years of his student ministry in the West, he traveled by train and then on foot to his different charges each week, covering 30 miles on foot. He had time to speculate as to what home would entertain him for his meals and for overnight stops. In summer he always cherished the strong hope that he would strike a home that served beef and not chicken, which was considered the inevitable dish to put before the minister.

He had many amusing experiences mixed in with the sorrows he shared with his parishioners. He recalls a time when a brother pastor called on him to take the first part of a church service since this pastor had lumbago and said he could hardly sit down nor get up. Starting to lead the responsive readings, Mr. Markin's youthful sense of humor found it difficult to keep a sober face as he read: "Lord Thou knowest my downheartedness and mine upheartedness." Equally difficult was it not to smile when a young lady read aloud from the "love chapter"—"though I have all knowledge and understand all ministries."

Mr. Markin said that 25 years ago, he set out to be 100 years old. Such a goal makes living a game. He strongly advises all young ministers to learn what unpleasant bouts with ill health taught him: that a minister can serve well only if he first learns to take care of his own health.

Mr. Markin feels that one of the remarkable things about his ministry is that he should be called to pastor a church when he is 70 years of age. His parishioners find his energy and initiative equal to that of younger men. He has served six churches, his last charge—Fort Wayne, Ind., Westminster Presbyterian—being his longest term; eleven years. He came to the Gap in July 1953. He has a wife who seconded all his endeavors; and a son and three grandchildren who live in Iowa.

Mr. Markin devotes much time to writing and has, among things published, a small book "A Song of Triumph," which shows how the 23rd Psalm teaches the mastery of fear. He also is adept at writing poetry. He faces the coming years of ministry as one who sees the church as a workshop for spiritual development of people and not as a "don't serve with the minister as head don't-er."

When he entered his pulpit Sunday, Sept. 12, the fifth anniversary of his ministry, he found that his church friends had placed there a card of congratulations and a fifty dollar bill. The combined senior and junior choirs sang a special anthem in honor of the occasion. Thursday night, 30 members of his church gathered at the Mountain House for a surprise-party-dinner in his honor.

WHY? WHY? WHY?

It is such a little word, yet she uses it so often . . . particularly when she is alone, and thinking to herself. For it seems, then, as if there are so many questions and so few answers.

She tells herself that she isn't unhappy. She is young and attractive, has a family and friends, and enough material things to satisfy her wants. Yet there is something lacking, something that makes her restless when she should be at peace, enjoying the bounty of some of the best years of her life. Why, she asks herself. Why?

The answer is a simple one. There is something lacking in her life . . . there is a void. She hasn't found the basic faith that can answer her questions. She needs the spiritual background that the Church alone can give her. And until she finds this—she will still be asking, "Why?"

Do you ask yourself "Why?" too?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of the community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mount Pocono Water Co. Bought By Walker And Associates

Councilman Serving As Manager

THE MOUNT Pocono Water Company has been purchased by George Walker, resident of that community for some 15 years, and "associates" who Walker said "preferred to remain" anonymous "for the present."

Walker, a member of the Mount Pocono Borough Council and that body's "water committee," said he is "manager" of the company under the new ownership.

The Mount Pocono man indicated an organization meeting of parties who purchased the company is imminent.

The concern serves 275 domestic and commercial users, all within the limits of the borough.

Ownership of the water company has been vested in a local group consisting of A. J. Zabrackie, of Stroudsburg, president; R. C. Cranmer, Stroud Township, vice president; Mrs. W. L. Tommedieu, secretary-treasurer with C. R. Bensch as company attorney.

Source of the water company's supply comes from springs along Paradise Valley road at Mount-Pocono. Water is pumped to two reservoirs—one near the North end and South Turnpike and the other on Pine Hill.

Walker said the new ownership contemplates improvements which will result in more storage and a more adequate supply with additional lines to provide a more uniform pressure and supply for users and fire protection.

Wilson Says Nation Strong

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 17 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson said tonight America has built up great military strength and at the same time "we are saving money for the taxpayers."

Wilson spoke at a Nebraska industrial symposium three days after the administration announced in Washington that defense spending in the fiscal year which began July 1 will be reduced three billion dollars. The new total is $41,900,000,000.

"We are saving money for the taxpayers," Wilson said, "and at the same time increasing the strength of our military services in a way that will give the nation the greatest security."

"We have organized and do have great military strength—in the air, on land and under the sea and on the land. I am confident that we can continue to maintain our national security without falling into national bankruptcy."

Wilson said a major goal of his department is to get "the maximum combat effectiveness from every dollar made available by the people through their Congress" and added:

"We have a military program military strategy in the light of present world conditions. We are taking full advantage of all technological developments, new weapons and weapon systems."

"We have a military program which we are making every effort to keep in balance and in a state of readiness. We are achieving increased combat effectiveness throughout all our military services."

"We are avoiding duplication of effort, clarifying lines of authority and responsibility, and improving the effectiveness of our military organization."

"We are stopping waste in all areas and improving the efficiency with which we are doing all the necessary things that have to be done."

Military strength alone is not a complete safeguard for peace and freedom, Wilson said at another point where he discussed the shrinkage of the world in this atomic age. He said:

"We must understand the importance of making an extra effort to get along with the peoples of other nations and their governments, particularly those of the free world."

Chiropractors Opposed To 'Flat Look'

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17 (AP)—Two officials of the Pennsylvania Chiropractic Society said today that French dress designer Christian Dior's new "flat look" is unhealthy.

Dr. G. Harry Lewis of Hazleton, president of the society, said: "This new flat look places the bosom in an unnatural position and flattens it. We believe in support. Support assures a more natural position and the bosom is able to follow its normal, natural contours."

Dr. Arlene Olsen of Erie, director of the society's ladies' auxiliary, said: "When the bosom is flattened for fashion's sake, the blood and nerves supply is affected. An ill-fitting garment causing pressure and irritation might even lead to cancer."

Law Limits Expenses Of Campaigners

By EDWIN B. HARRISON
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Candidates for the Senate are being officially reminded that the top legal limit on their campaign spending is $25,000. That's in the biggest states; $10,000 is the limit in some.

J. Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate, said today Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) is the first Senate candidate to comply with federal election laws requiring a sworn report on campaign contributions and expenditures.

At the same time, Trice said Paul Fullam, college professor and Democratic candidate whom Mrs. Smith defeated Monday, may be in technical violation of the law.

It requires that all Senate candidates file two statements on contributions and expenditures, one 10 to 15 days before the general election and the other within 30 days after the voting.

"It may be our fault that Fullam did not report because we may not have sent him the forms in time," Trice said.

Sportsmen Endorse New Plan For Antlerless Deer Season

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs today endorsed a resolution calling for abolishment of the present state system of regulating antlerless deer hunting seasons.

A panel meeting of delegates and directors of the federation backed a proposal that termed the system of issuing permits for hunting the deer during a special season "unfair and discriminatory."

Endorsement by the panel meeting sets the resolution up for action tomorrow by the federation's general assembly. The PFSC panel met to open the two-day semi-annual meeting here.

Under the present system the antlerless deer permits are issued through county agencies. The State Game Commission fixes the number to be issued to each county according to the deer population.

At the same time the federation reaffirmed its stand calling on a central state agency, such as the Revenue Department, to issue antlerless deer hunting licenses. Antlerless deer are doe or bucks with antlers under an inch in length.

In its resolution, the federation declared "It is felt that if the deer herd in Pennsylvania is not large enough to warrant a general hunting season, it is not large enough to warrant a special season for a favored few."

At the same time the panel meeting turned down three other proposed resolutions covering the same ground on the antlerless deer season.

Regulation of the antlerless season has long been a storm center among Pennsylvania hunters.

Following heated debate, delegates from north central counties withdrew a resolution calling on the federation to back appointment of a new Fish Commission director.

"I think we have always stayed out of endorsing anybody for either the Fish or Game Commissions," Everett Henderson, Downingtown, who led opposition to the proposal, told the meeting.

Henderson, who is chairman of the organization's legislative committee, declared that endorsement of the resolution would put the federation "out on a limb."

Specifically, the resolution proposal, backed by representatives of the PFSC's north central district, called for appointment of George Harvey, a trout expert, to replace C. A. French, present commission director.

Henderson also declared that endorsement of the measure would harm the federation's relationship with the Legislature.

"I think we ought not to label ourselves," Henderson said.

Flashlight Is Entered As Evidence

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—The Commonwealth today introduced into evidence bed linen and a flashlight as exhibits in the murder trial of Paul Graver, 43, of Leighton.

Graver is on trial for the slaying of Mrs. Dorothy Casey Gilhool, 42, wife of the operator of a casino at the nearby Harvey's Lake resort community.

It is believed that the state will attempt to prove that Graver used the flashlight to kill Mrs. Gilhool. Only explanation given today on the bed linen was that it was from Graver's room at the casino.

Sgt. Robert Musser of the state police testified he scraped what he thought was blood from the floor of the casino.

Mrs. Gilhool's partially frozen body was found in an isolated section near the casino last December. Graver was an employee of the casino.

Another witness was 26-year-old William Dougher, a bartender at Nighthall's Cafe, a tavern at Harvey's Lake where Mrs. Gilhool was seen for the last time before her slaying.

The bartender testified that he served Mrs. Gilhool 10 or 12 drinks and "maybe more" during the course of the evening before she disappeared. She was missing for 26 hours after leaving the tavern and before her body was found.

Dougher testified that he mixed eight to 10 whiskey drinks for Graver, who also attended the drinking party.

Dougher told the jury he was a member of a searching party which hunted for Mrs. Gilhool the following day. But he said he abandoned his efforts in the search after a few hours. Asked why, he replied:

"Joe Gilhool (the victim's husband) didn't seem worried about her, so why should I be."

The witness said Gilhool joined in search activities some 10 hours after the victim's disappearance.

Fred Kegley Elected Head Of Oil Men

THE MONROE County Division, Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, met yesterday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel to discuss problems of special interest to the highway users of the county, and to elect officers.

Speaking of the activities of the county division, Fred W. Kegley said: "For over 20 years we have sought and supported public policies which are fair not only to us, but to our customers and to the state at large."

Referring to highway taxation he stated, "Last year an average tax bill of $36.42 in federal and state taxes and fees was paid by our customers for the privilege of operating their vehicles in Pennsylvania. And the question must be faced as to whether or not the point of diminishing returns is being reached in the gasoline tax. If this tax is subject to any unwarranted increase it will be a matter of time when the average family will have to leave the car in the garage and consider it an expensive luxury."

"It is the purpose of our organization to see that our Pennsylvania motorists receive the greatest possible road value for each tax dollar expended. Coupled with this, we must encourage highway commerce by supporting fair laws and policies with regard to automobiles, buses and trucks, and discourage any effort to hinder the development of highway transportation."

At the meeting, the following officers were elected for 1954-55:

Fred W. Kegley, Esso Standard, chairman; Arthur G. Fry Jr., Sun Oil, vice chairman; J. S. Swartley, Swartley Oil, secretary.

Bangor School Board Gives Final Okay To Joint System

BANGOR — The Bangor School Board has given final official approval to the new Bangor Area Joint School System. The approval was made unanimously after much discussion over a few provisions in the articles of agreement.

This affects the first jointure in the State Belt Area after seven years of attempt. The jointure is between Bangor and Roseto districts. The Roseto School Board gave their official approval of the agreement by signing at their regular monthly meeting held last Monday night.

The decision paves the way for commencement of work on a new budget. Herbert Crane, Stroudsburg certified public accountant, was given authority to proceed on the construction of the new budget.

The provision of the agreement under most question was one which read: "The said committee (Bangor Area Joint School Committee) shall be vested with the exclusive power and authority to negotiate with the said district desirous of becoming a member, so that the action of said committee shall be controlling. However, the breadth of said committee's discretion shall not extend to the admission of any new member district if such action would necessitate the construction of a new building or effect an overcrowded pupil enrollment."

Some members seemed to think that this section might "bar the door" to any other districts who may desire to also join with Bangor

Grandmothers In Battle For Goldsmith Tot

PARIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Patino-Goldsmith custody battle over the frail four-month-old Isabela Goldsmith ranged today from a private civil court hearing to a luxurious apartment-nursery on the swank Bois de Boulogne Park.

The two grandmothers of the multi-million dollar heiress to British hotel and Bolivian tin fortunes were drawn into the fight.

Judge Jean Ausset will decide tomorrow whether the motherless infant will live with her father and her Goldsmith grandmother in the Bois de Boulogne flat especially furnished for her or with her Spanish blue-blood Patino grandmother in Versailles.

Smiling after the court hearing and a solemn judiciary inspection of the apartment-nursery, James Goldsmith said he had strong hopes of winning custody. The child's 18-year-old mother, the former Isabela Patino, died just after bearing the infant Isabela in the tragic climax of her runaway romance with 21-year-old Goldsmith.

Mrs. Antenor Patino, estranged wife of the Bolivian tin magnate, yesterday asked the court to give her the custody of the child after Goldsmith filed a charge of "non-presentation of child."

Goldsmith had placed the child in the custody of his mother-in-law two months ago when he left for a trip to West Africa. The baby, suffering from anoxemia (lack of oxygen in the blood) lived with a nurse and Mrs. Patino in a Versailles hotel.

When he came back two days ago Goldsmith went to Versailles but was told that the baby was not there. He immediately alerted police and accused an "unknown person or persons" of kidnapping.

Later lawyers for Mrs. Patino said the baby was put in "a safe place." They added Goldsmith was not fit to take care of her because she needs "a feminine presence."

"I still don't know where the baby is but I think she is still with her grandmother," Goldsmith told reporters.

"Of course if the ruling is in my favor and my mother-in-law refuses to give me Isabela, I'll request police intervention," he added.

Waring To Receive Award For Distinguished Service To Pennsylvania At Show

FRED WARING, of Shawnee, world-famous musician and leader of the "Pennsylvanians," will receive a distinguished-service award as an outstanding Pennsylvanian at the first annual Pennsylvania Industrial and Construction Exposition to be held in Harrisburg next week.

The selection of Waring was announced yesterday by George M. Schmeltzer, executive director of the gigantic display of Pennsylvania on Parade, Waring and several other outstanding personalities will receive engraved plaques at the opening of the exposition Monday afternoon, Schmeltzer said.

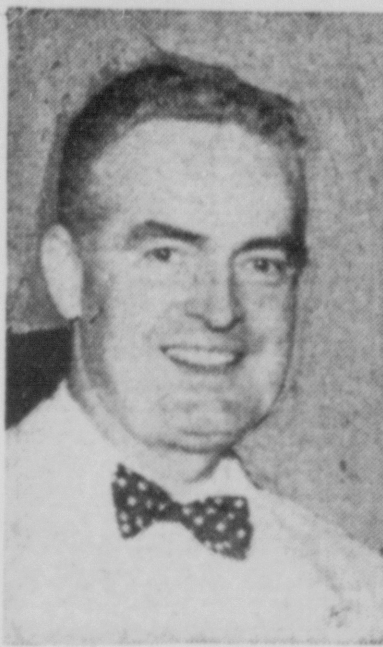

Designed to focus the industrial eyes of the nation on Pennsylvania's tremendous industrial potential, the all-industry show will be staged in Harrisburg's famed Farm Show Building all next week, ending Saturday night when a six-room "dream house" will be given away to an exposition visitor.

In choosing Waring to receive a distinguished-service award, Schmeltzer said:

"Fred Waring, a native of the small community of Tyrone, well deserves to be recognized as one of the all-time leaders in American Music. From a small background, he has risen constantly until he now personifies all that is great in good band music. When he chose the name 'Pennsylvanians,' for his organization, he did a great service for his native state and its residents. His rank as an entertainer is tops. He must be recognized, too, for his talent and for his services to Penn State University as a trustee. The exposition management is happy to make this award to an outstanding Pennsylvanian, who has done so much for his native state."

The presentation of the plaques to Waring and to the other outstanding Pennsylvanians chosen to receive them will be made Monday afternoon. Following a parade through downtown Harrisburg, ceremonies opening the exposition will be held at the main entrance to the Farm Show Building at 1:30 p. m.

In addition to Waring, plaques will be awarded to: State Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, Johnstown, seven-term member of the House of Representatives; Maj.

All-Industry Exposition Opens Monday

HARRISBURG, Sept. 16 (AP)—The story of Pennsylvania's giant industries—with a look into their future—will be on display for an expected throng of 300,000 persons here next week.

The occasion is the first statewide all-industry Pennsylvania Industrial and Construction Exposition, opening on Monday and running through Saturday.

The site will be five acres of floor space at Pennsylvania's State Farm Show Building.

As a show open to the public, free of charge, it will be industry's counterpart of the State Farm Show, which annually draws upward of a half million people from Pennsylvania and surrounding states.

It also will represent Pennsylvania's bid for world leadership in the field of industrial exhibitions.

A picture story of the history of transportation in Pennsylvania will be one of the features of the show. But history will be cast aside with the display also of a model of a nuclear reactor illustrating the type of atomic energy plant now under construction near Pittsburgh.

Reds Never Claimed MIG Held By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Russian-built MIG15 jet fighter which a North Korean pilot delivered to Americans for $100,000 a year ago has never been claimed by the Communists.

The Air Force said the plane currently is under study at headquarters of the Air Proving Ground Command at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

When the plane was turned over to the U. S. Air Force, authorities offered to return it to the owner who could prove his claim.

Officials speculated today that the Russians never had the gall to ask for the plane, and the North probably would have had difficulty Korean or Chinese Communists proving their ownership.

The plane cost considerably more than the reward the United States paid for it, even by Russian standards. The American F86, which outmatched the MIGs in the Korean War, costs upwards of $250,000. An Air Force officer has said "we will take all the MIGs we can get at this price."

Next Tuesday marks the first anniversary of pilot K. S. No's dramatic flight from MIGs to riches.

Marlon Brando An Actress? Reds Think So

NEW YORK (AP)—The top-ranking magazine in the Soviet Union has discovered Marlon Brando.

The "theoretical and political journal of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union"—Kommunist—described Brando for Soviet readers as "a well-known American actress."

Kommunist quoted a statement it claimed Brando made. An article assailing the American motion picture industry the latest issue of this magazine to reach here declared:

"The well-known American actress Marlon Brando declares: 'In Hollywood the golden calf which stifles everything reigns. The cinema is not art. It is big business. A reflection of ordinary, simple, genuine life is totally impermissible here.'"

Educational Loans Service Explained To New BPW's

New Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club learned a lot more about the purposes and projects of their club at the membership meeting held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Thursday night following the opening Fall supper meeting.

The Educational Loan Fund of the club was explained by the membership committee with Evelyn Hastie in charge, and Dolores Beneski, Bernice Decker, Roberta Evans, Helen Fisher, Mildred Hoffstadt and Stella Shade forming a panel in a question-and-answer discussion.

The Educational Loan Fund, set up in 1930 has assisted 23 girls with their education during that time. At the present time there are 6 active loans from the fund. It is administered by an Educational Loan Fund committee chosen from the club membership. That committee includes Hilda LaBar, Mildred Hoffstadt, Ruth Brown, Joyce Rutt and Bernice All at the present time with one member elected each year for a five year term.

The committee investigates all applications for loans, which are considered on the basis of scholarship and need. Three of the loan holders at the present time are working for advanced degrees on scholarships with the loans from the BPW assisting them.

The panel also presented the meaning of the symbols on the BPWC pin and emblem in relation to the ideas of the federation.

Miss Marie Brown presided at the meeting. Mrs. William Levering spoke on the Community Concert Membership campaign. Betty Price announced a bake sale scheduled for October 17 at Wyckoff's.

Announcement was also made of the District 8 meeting of the state federation to be held at Pocono Manor on October 23 and 24.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY

A TOTAL of 30 additional dollars was recently received by the Varsity "E" Club to add to its Lighting Fund. The additional gift was made possible through a group of women who played golf at Shawnee during the Waite Memorial Tournament and by the generosity of Tom and Fred Waring. The women collected the money to purchase a present for the Warnings, but they in turn asked the ladies to give the money to the Light Fund.

Stroudsburg High School had to accomplish a lot of work yesterday before the first football game could be played last night. One of the goal posts had to be erected, a portion of the fence had to be repaired and benches for both squads had to be procured. But as usual Mahlon Serfass, faculty athletic manager, and his staff came through with flying colors and the game went off on schedule and with great success.

Tom Schultz, junior varsity basketball player and a member of the baseball team at Chestnut Hill High, will be released from the General Hospital today after a bout with a troublesome appendix that will cause no more trouble. Schultz is a junior. All but three members of the golf staff at Shawnee Inn and Country Club witnessed the Marciano-Charles fight last night. Most of them took up a three-day vigil in New York as the heavy-weight title fight was postponed three times because of rain.

Billy Long, former second-baseman with the Stroudsburg Poconos and once manager of the Bangor-Berwick franchise in the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, won the batting championship in the Scranton Association this season with a .542 mark. Bill played shortstop in 18 games, appeared at the plate 72 times, scored 24 runs and batted out 39 hits for the Dunmore Recreation contingent. George Kell, now of the Chicago White Sox, was Long's understudy at third base when Billy was with Lancaster, then a member of the class "B" Inter-State League.

James Parker, Paterson, N.J. heavyweight, and Luke McDer-mott, heavyweight champion of Ireland, will workout at Harry's Farm, area training camp, today and tomorrow. The camp is located on the New Jersey side of the Delaware River, five miles above the Delaware Water Gap bridge. Stan Dudas, assistant golf pro at Shawnee, maintains that the Terresdale Country Club course, located in Philadelphia, is one of the toughest courses on which he has ever played. Stan finished in a tie for eighth place in the Philadelphia Open Tournament played at Terresdale last Monday.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College is currently having its gymnasium floor re-finished. It has been sanded and protective coats will be added in the near future. This is the finest basketball court within miles of this area. It is quite possible that the Varsity "E" Club may run a basketball tournament during the Christmas Holidays, with all profits going toward the Memorial Stadium lighting system. The tournament may be made up of high school teams from both Monroe and Wayne Counties.

It is also quite possible that the Varsity "E" Club may operate a basketball team in the Blue Mountain League during the coming campaign. Sam Everitt, recently named vice president of the Stroudsburg School Board, is a former Stroudsburg High athlete. Number one manager and most deserving league official for the 1954 season will be selected by the Pocono Mountains Baseball League on Monday, at which time the circuit will hold its regular monthly meeting at Stroudsburg's Community Bar and Grill.

A large number of Lehigh graduates who are now students at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College were present at last night's football game between Stroudsburg and Lehigh High Schools. Dr. Frank P. Maguire, commissioner of Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association officials, informed this reporter the other day that his mail was very heavy last week following the opening game. The majority of questions dealt with the various new rules that were unfolded in the first contests of the campaign.

One ticket is available, for the asking, for the Villanova-Mississippi football game in Philadelphia on Saturday night, Oct. 2. The ticket may be picked up at the sports desk. The game will be played at Municipal Stadium.

East Stroudsburg Gridders Battle Slatington Today

Cavaliers Searching For Second Victory

EAST Stroudsburg High School's football squad, anxious to register its second victory of the current campaign, runs into a highly regarded Slatington High grid machine today, on the latter's home field.

The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 2 p.m. Slatington, featuring the highly regarded Maurice Schleicher, 220 pounds of ball carrying dynamite, and hard running Dick Follweiler, is regarded by many people in the Lehigh Valley as the team to beat for the Lehigh Valley League championship this season.

The Slaters will feature a veteran backfield running behind a junior line. The host club is expected to run out of an unbalanced T-formation.

East Stroudsburg, fresh from a 31-0 victory over Hellertown last Friday, will face its first stiff opposition of the current campaign. This is the opening game for Slatington.

Coch Jack Kist last night was worried over the fact that Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, ace ball carrier, was limping with a slight charley horse, and that Denny Wagner, defensive halfback, twisted his right ankle in a recent practice. Both are expected to be in the lineup today.

East Stroudsburg's starting backfield will consist of Bill Sommers at quarterback; Kupiszewski, left halfback; Gene Plaza, right half, and Ronnie Newbaker, fullback. Frank Lupin is also expected to see plenty of action at both halfback positions.

John Bach will also see a lot of action at end, while Pete Lorenz and Dave Brands are listed for possible service at the tackle posts. Bill Strunk will appear at center and Dick Wolsky will handle the "backer" chores from time to time in the game. Doug Dailey will probably spell Newbaker at the fullback post.

Ralph Carter, highly regarded safetyman, returned for light workouts this week but will not be available until next Friday's tussle with Pen Argyl at Memorial Stadium. Carter missed the Hellertown contest because of a slight concussion.

Ticket Requests Swamp Indians

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17 (AP)—

Cleveland's Indians, still trying to crawl out from under successive loads of World Series ticket orders, said today they had 135,000 applications and expect more.

Since most orders are for two strips of three tickets, that means the club has about four times as many applications as available seats. Indian officials said they believed it was one of the biggest advance sales in history.

The deadline for mailing applications was tonight. As applications are opened, those that are incorrectly made out are thrown to one side for return to the senders, the Tribe said. The others are put in a pile, a front office spokesman explained. If the club finds it can fill only a fourth of the orders, employees will simply draw from the pile by lot every fourth application, returning the other orders unfilled.

Police got ready for the crowds expected October 1, 2 and 3, by assigning an extra 25 detectives. Hotels in Cleveland already are just about sold out. But some hotels as far away as 90 miles have said they would operate bus service between their cities and the Stadium.

Former Boxing Champion Dies

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Frank Erne, 79-year-old former lightweight boxing champion who won the title from George Lavigne in 1899, died today.

He was admitted to Beth David Hospital in Manhattan three days ago, suffering from a heart condition. Death came early today.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—The $50,000-added Beldame Handicap, one of the major stakes of the fall season, will be raced tomorrow with 11 fillies and mares in the six furlong and one eighth event at Aqueduct.

Bangor Invades Palmerton For Opening Game

BANGOR — Bangor High School, looking forward with anxious hope to possibly one of its best football campaigns in history, lifts the lid on the 1954 season today with Palmerton providing the opposition on the latter's home field.

The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 2 p.m. Bangor has been drilling for the past month under the watchful eye of head coach Granville "Granny" Evans and is reportedly ready and anxious to get the campaign under way.

The Slaters will feature a veteran club with returning lettermen dominating the ranks.

Bangor's starting forward wall today will feature Louis Casciano and Art "Bucky" Parsons at the end posts; Gerald Dally and Ralph "Barney" Stenlake, tackles; Nick Martucci and Dick Marinelli, guards, and Bill Godshalk, center.

The backfield will be made up of Dick Hess at quarterback; Glenn Heard and Jack Stenlake at the halfback posts and either Duane Miller or Dale Miller, brothers, at the fullback posts. Duane Miller, a senior, is the most experienced of the backs.

There's hefty in the reserve tackle department. A pair of 200-pounders, Nick F. Martucci and Larry Kaph; and an 180-pound Kermie LaBar present strength. Raph is a veteran and senior; LaBar is a junior and Martucci is up from the jayvees, a sophomore. Dick Stinson and Nick Due bring some experience from their last year's varsity play as reserve guards. There's also a promising sophomore, Charley Woolley, pushing them.

Don Evans, a junior and veteran of last year's varsity, and sophomore Joe Ronco are the pivot reserves.

Dale Miller is a hefty sophomore who was a member of last year's varsity but saw very little action. Stenlake may also double at the quarterback spot. The only other signal caller is a sophomore with much promise, J. L. "Jabby" Williams, up from the jayvee

Youth Takes Over In Women's Golf

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17 (AP)—Two California glamor girls, willowy Mickey Wright of La Jolla and button-cut Barbara Romack of Sacramento, launched a new youth movement in golf today when they crashed into the finals of the Women's National Amateur Championship at a loss of a hole.

Miss Wright, 19, Stanford University sophomore, smothered defeat in a 15-hole match, Mary Lena Clark of Nashville, Ga., 5 and 4. Miss Romack, 21, crushed Mrs. George W. McMillen of Decatur, Ill., five times Illinois champion, 7 and 6.

The women's most one-sided semifinal triumphs in the history of this 59-year-old event.

The Pacific Coast rivals, who have met twice before with Miss Romack the victor each time, will clash in the 36-hole title round tomorrow at the Allegheny Country Club.

Former Boxing Star Killed

FLINT, Mich., Sept. 17 (AP)—Roger Bernard, who held three decisions over world boxing champions but never held a title himself, died today in a fall from a third floor hotel room. He was 47.

Bernard fought 307 bouts from 1924 to 1939, losing only 25. He twice defeated former featherweight champion Battling Battalino and once outpointed former welterweight champion Barney Ross.

He lost to lightweight champion Lou Ambers and to featherweight champions Freddie Miller and Kid Chocolate.

Since retiring from the ring he has been connected with boxing almost continuously as a manager and as a trainer.

Knickerbockers Obtain Felix

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—The New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association today guided Connie Simmons and Al McGuire to the Baltimore Bullets for Ray Felix and rookie Chuck Grigsby.

Felix, 6-11 former star at Long Island University, and Simmons, veteran of nine years in the league, are the main players in the deal.

Bowling Match Slated

CROWE'S Insurance, East Stroudsburg's entry in the Delaware Valley League, opens the bowling season against Caputo's Cities Service today on the Fless Club alleys, in Easton. Action is slated to begin at 8 p.m.

Rich Beldame Handicap To Be Featured Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—The $50,000-added Beldame Handicap, one of the major stakes of the fall season, will be raced tomorrow with 11 fillies and mares in the six furlong and one eighth event at Aqueduct.

Top weight of 126 pounds will be carried by Mrs. Charles Silver's Lavender Hill, but the probable favorite at around 2-1 is Mrs.

Kunkleton, Saylorsburg Meet In Important Playoff Tussle

SAYLORSBURG—Kunkleton, battling for the playoff championship in the Pocono Mountains League, invades this locality tomorrow needing only one more victory to land the playoff title.

The game is scheduled to begin at 2 p. m.

Saylorsburg, the club that finished third in the final standings and then eliminated pennant winning Pocono Lake in the first two games of first round playoff action, is equally determined to get back on an even footing in this three-game tussle.

Kunkleton won the opening battle between these two teams last Sunday by a 12-5 count behind the pitching of Earl Ziegenfus.

Ziegenfus may also be the rubber again tomorrow, although Asher Smith and Woodrow "Woody" Costenader are also available for hill duty.

Bob Bonser or Ralph "Peanuts" Moyer will do the pitching for Saylorsburg.

Kunkleton, second place club in the final standings, reached the championship series by eliminating Lake Harmony, number four club, in the first playoff round.

If a third game is necessary it will be played next Sunday and a field will be decided at Monday's league meeting. The meeting is scheduled to be held at the Community Bar and Grill, Main St., Stroudsburg. The gathering is slated for 8 p. m.

All team representatives who have not already done so will be required to make any changes or corrections on rosters dealing with spelling and eliminations.

Team representatives present will also be requested to ballot for the most popular manager for the 1954 season and for the most deserving league official during the same campaign. Both will be honored at the circuit's annual banquet.

Other entries include German Sheppards owned by Hillendale Schenck, Bangor RD 3.

Smooth Daeshunds will also be entered by Alene R. Vars, Mount Bethel.

More than 350 trophies and $350 in cash prizes will be awarded.

The 26th annual Lehigh Valley show is slated to begin at 10 a. m. and end at approximately 6 p. m.

Steelers Drop Four Players

OLEAN, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers, with only 10 days left to reduce their roster to 33, have dropped four more rookies, leaving 41 players.

The latest players to be cut from the squad are linebacker Joe Fulwider of Oregon State, guard Joe Palumbo of Virginia, tackle George Murphy of Harbor Junior College and end Kirk Hinderlitter of Colorado A & M.

Others in the race, to be televised nationally (CBS) at 4-4:30 p. m., (EDT), are the C. V. Whittey entry of Dispute, and Ming Yellow, Walter M. Jeffords' Open Sesame, the Darby Dan Farm's Clear Dawn, Mrs. Ben. F. Whitaker's Grecian Queen, the Bee Gee Farm's Petal and the Foxcatcher Farm's Parlo.

Football Presents First Big Weekend

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—College football, which made a hesitant entrance tonight, sweeps to the center of the athletic stage tomorrow with a dozen contests that would look well on a November schedule.

There will even be a game on your TV (ABC) screen to compete for your interest with the hot National League baseball struggles, horse racing and the Canadian version of football.

Oklahoma visits California in the TV game of the day. Oklahoma, voted the nation's second best in the recent pre-season AP poll, may be handicapped by the bruised ribs which kept Gene (Calamity) Calame, senior quarterback, on the sidelines much of the past week.

But Buddy Leake, a halfback, is back to carry the mail for the Sooners and the club is blessed with a pair of top ends in Carl Allison and Max Boydston. California's star is quarterback Paul Larson.

In other spectaculars, Maryland, the 1953 No. 1 team but voted no better than third for 1954, visits rebuilding Kentucky; Georgia Tech sends its Sugar Bowl kings against Tulane; Rice meets Florida; Baylor looks for revenge at Houston's expense; Texas unfurls its powerful machine against Louisiana State and Rice meets Florida.

There will be little or no activity in the East or in the Big Ten sector although five of the Big Seven machines will be busy.

Chuck Mather, who won six straight state championships at Massillon, Ohio, High School, makes his debut as a college mentor with a Kansas team that has only one starter back from last year. The Jayhawks hang into Texas Christian, Iowa State, also with a new coach, plays South Dakota State and Kansas State plays a Colorado A & M team, that eked out a 14-13 verdict over K-State in 53. Drake is the guest of Colorado.

Texas A & M, only club to defeat Texas Tech last year, hopes that new Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant will repeat the triumph although the Aggie squad is so small that the coaching staff has to offer itself in sacrifice during scrimmages.

Utah goes to the West Coast to meet Washington while Idaho and Oregon mix in a Pacific Conference game that counts in the championship race just as if it were played in November.

There also is a league game in the Southern Conference with Davidson mixing it up with Virginia Military.

Other Dixie delicacies are Georgia vs. Florida State, North Carolina State at Virginia Tech, and George Washington at Wake Forest.

One intersectional affair pairs two potential champions with Wyoming, one of the strong contenders for Skyline Eight honors, host to Oklahoma A & M, expected to win the Missouri Valley laurels.

Fillies, Mares Slated To Clash

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Sept. 17 (AP)—A dozen fillies and mares are scheduled to battle it out tomorrow in the 25,000-added Philadelphia Turf Handicap over the grass course at Atlantic City Race Course.

If all go in the mile and one eighth event the winner will earn $20,550 of the $29,600 gross purse.

James M. Grievy's Miss Jeanne is the highweight of the field under 114 pounds and on the scale of weight for age, Walter J. Appel's Another World, 3-year-old winner of the recent Miss America Turf Stakes, packs topweight of 113 pounds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—The New York Giants announced tonight they have sold all of their World Series tickets.

The club offered between 30,000 and 40,000 seats to the public starting last Tuesday. A spokesman said the supply was exhausted early today.

Sooners Picked Over Bears On Coast

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 17 (AP)—The Oklahoma Sooners, one of the best and most colorful college football teams in the country, help touch off the 1954 season here tomorrow in a clash with the California Golden Bears.

It is television's "game of the week" and a nationwide audience of an estimated fifty million is expected to be watching the screens at the 5 p. m. (EDT) kickoff.

The contest, season opener for both teams, will attract a crowd of between sixty and seventy thousand to California's Memorial Stadium. More than five thousand Oklahoma fans are believed to have come here to root for their club.

The Sooners operate out of the intricate split T-formation as coached by Bud Wilkinson. They represent the toughest opener California has faced since Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf took over the coaching reins in 1947. In last year's starter, the Bears took a 25-0 lashing from Baylor.

California employs the straight T-formation but coach Waldorf's strategy also calls for splitting his linemen at times in a variation of the split T.

Oklahoma is the established favorite to outscore the bigger and heavier California squad. The Sooners rate way up in the national poll with the Bears back in the second ten.

Tatamy Meets Portland For Series Crown

PORTLAND—Tatamy and Portland will attempt to settle the play-off championship in the Blue Mountain Baseball League tomorrow when they clash here at 2:30 p.m.

Each club has one victory to its credit in the final series and each needs one more favorable nod to gain possession of the Governor's Cup.

The series, being decided on a two-out-of-three basis, was scheduled to be completed last Saturday but rain and wet grounds forced postponement of the contest until tomorrow.

Tatamy, third place club in the final standings, earned its spot in the final series by sidetracking pennant winning Martins Creek in two straight games. Portland upended fourth place Roseto in the same number of games to enter the final round. The Apollos were second at the end of the regular season.

Bob Muhr, successful southpaw, will probably do the pitching for Portland, while either Bill Bahrhardt or Bill Johns, a pair of right handers, will be on the firing line for Tatamy.

Portland opened the series with a victory here on its home field, but Tatamy bounced back to even matters at Tatamy the following week.

The Apollos won a flip of a coin and chose to play the final game in their home ball yard.

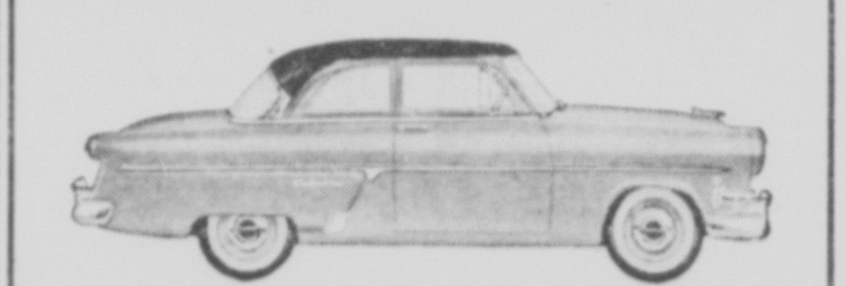

Court Clears Giant Pitcher

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—A charge of failing to yield the right of way to a police car against New York Giants pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm was dismissed today in Yonkers City Court.

The charge was placed against Wilhelm in June after a minor collision between the pitcher's car and a police vehicle here.

About the same time Wilhelm pleaded guilty to a speeding charge in nearby Tarrytown and was fined $60.

Dulles Seeks Plan Better Than Eden's

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

A great deal to do is being made over the fact that Secretary Dulles went abroad to discuss matters vital to Europe's future without including Paris among his ports of call.

Whether or not the strategy is a good one remains to be seen. The object is clear.

France, since knocking out the European Defense Community plan which she herself devised three years ago as a control over German rearmament, has left the initiative of what now must be done entirely up to others.

It was naturally expected that, having rejected EDC and knowing that Germany was bound to be rearmament by hook or crook, she would come up with new proposals, if only to protect her own position.

But Premier Mendes-France apparently felt that his proposals for revisions of EDC at the Brussels Conference, before the French Assembly voted, should make France's position clear enough.

He had found himself facing unanimous opposition by the other proposed members at that conference, and after the vote France found herself under the severest criticism from even her best friends. She sat back to see if they would not propose something to which she could agree.

Anthony Eden of Great Britain has made a proposal for including Germany in the 1948 Brussels treaty which has never meant much, but which does contain an automatic commitment from Britain to come to the aid of any attacked member. That does something to assuage French fears that in EDC, she would have been committed to something that a resurgent Germany could control.

But fragmentary reports after Eden visited Paris indicated France's continued reluctance to do anything at all about rearmament, although Mendes-France is required under the post-EDC Assembly situation to submit new proposals when that body reconvenes November 3. Attempts of the post-conference communiqué to smooth this over fell rather flat.

In this connection, Dulles has gone to Europe suddenly to see if it is possible to obtain anything better than the Eden plan, to see just what Germany is willing to promise in the way of submitting to restrictions on her rearmament, and to convince France that, since something is going to be done, she'd better get in on it.

For this purpose, he has chosen to leave France out on the limb where she put herself. Until she perceives that she must work her way back.

Paris has taken it as a short-sighted snub, and this has been echoed in segments of the British and American press. It is more of a calculated warning, an effort to get her back in the fold, where she must be if any European defense program is to be successful.

It is also an effort to see if something can be salvaged from the wreckage of European unity, as against mere rearmament of Germany.

Hubby Greets Lady Driver At Jail Door

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Montang, a little brunette who wears spectacles, walked out of the Erie County Jail at one minute after midnight this morning, hugged her husband and said "I'd do it again under the same circumstances."

She meant she would again serve five days in jail rather than pay an $850 fine for a traffic violation she claims she didn't commit.

A policeman had arrested her on a charge of driving her car through a stop sign.

Justice of the Peace P. Wesley Allen of nearby Union City found Mrs. Montang guilty and gave her a choice of paying an $850 fine or going to jail for five days.

Mrs. Montang took the jail term, explaining that if she had paid the fine it would have been an admission of guilt.

And how did the 34-year-old housewife from Cabot in Butler County get along in jail.

"The food she said, was 'no too unpleasant.'"

"If you like it, buy the food is fine," she said. "I have gall bladder trouble and couldn't eat it. I lived mainly on coffee and sent out for a few things."

She had planned to work on her hobby—electrical drafting—while in jail. But she didn't have a good drawing board and the light was not strong enough.

So she spent most of her time reading or chatting with her cell mates—most of whom had been jailed for assault and battery or prostitution.

Mrs. Montang was arrested June 27 in Union City.

She said at her hearing that she had stopped her auto at the stop sign. Furthermore, she told the judge, the arresting officer was too far away from the sign to be able to tell whether or not she had stopped.

She began serving her jail term Monday. The warden, Jay Sherman, released her as soon as she could technically do so which was

False Confession Doesn't Help Convict In Attempt To Win Release From Prison

MCALISTER, Okla., Sept. 17 (AP)—

An Oklahoma convict who hoped to parlay a confession to the slaying of a 14-year-old Pennsylvania murder into freedom from a life term for another slaying "hasn't helped his chances any," officials said today.

Jack Ray, 31, admitted yesterday that his 600-word detailed "confession" was a hoax gleaned from a detective magazine. In fact, officials said he probably never had even been in State College, Pa., where Penn State Coed Rachel Taylor was slain in March, 1940.

Ray, who signed a jurist state Tuesday involving narcotics, illicit love and wild parties, said he was inspired to claim responsibility as a means of dramatizing his plea for parole.

The convict now maintains he is innocent of a 1939 murder of an Oklahoma truck driver to which he pleaded guilty in 1942.

Campbell Leflore, state pardon and parole officer, said the fake confession "hasn't helped his chances any" of receiving a future parole. He pointed out that Ray already had dimmed any chance for release by trying to escape last May.

In Harrisburg, Pa., Col. C. M. Wilhelm, Pennsylvania state police commissioner, said the long-standing probe would be continued, adding: "We would have been tickled to death if this (Ray confession) had solved the case. But we'll continue our investigation until it is solved."

Meanwhile, the Centre Daily Times in State College said Deputy Sheriff Abner Dear of Pittsburgh County, Okla., insists that the confession is true despite Ray's repudiation.

"It will take more than the present situation to make me change my mind after talking with Ray again last night in his cell," the newspaper quoted Dear as saying in a telephone conversation. He's the man who killed that girl. He just blew up under questioning."

Parents Of First Graders Receive New NEA Booklet: Educator Tells Of Changes

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—A staggering total of 4,600,000 youngsters are entering first grade this month, and the National Education Assn. reported today it's doing its best to prepare a handbook for the parents most likely to be shattered and bewildered by it all: The new booklet, "Janie Learns

Confessed Swindler Sentenced

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Sept. 17 (AP)—

Dr. Alfred A. Valdimanis, Latvian-born financial genius who pleaded guilty to swindling the Newfoundland government out of $200,000, was sentenced today to four years at hard labor.

A second count involving $270,000 still stands against the 47-year-old economist, one-time Latvian government cabinet minister and World War II refugee who directed Newfoundland's economic development program from 1950 until he resigned last February. Newfoundland prosecutors have indicated this charge will be dropped.

Valdimanis' head sagged, his eyes blinked and he swallowed hard as Chief Justice Sir Albert Walsh passed sentence in the crowded, small Supreme Court. A few minutes later the nattily dressed prisoner was led off by scarlet-coated police to begin his sentence, which does not include time served since his arrest April 23.

At the time Valdimanis pleaded guilty in a surprise move Wednesday, his attorney, Gordon Higgins, told the court, in asking for clemency, that Valdimanis' assets totaled $568,000 and that most of this would be turned over to the government.

Valdimanis, a finance minister at the age of 29 in the Latvian government before his homeland was swallowed up by Soviet Russia, was hired as Newfoundland economic director by provincial Premier Joseph R. Smallwood in 1950. At that time Valdimanis was earning $100 a month as a part-time employee of the Canadian Trade and Industry Department. He also was a full-time professor at Carleton College, Ottawa.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson

In his letter to the Ephesians, Paul summarized the sins which Christians should avoid: lying, stealing, etc. "Let all bitterness, wrath, and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice."

And before this list of sins Paul writes that if one were angry at another, he should not allow the sun to go down without making peace between them.

"And be ye kind one to another, even as God hath forgiven you."

"Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children; and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us as an offering and a sacrifice to God."

Just a few words from John's first epistle:

"Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth, not knoweth not God, for God is love."

"There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment."

"If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?"

And this commandment have we from Him, that he who loveth God loveth his brother also."

Memory Verse—"Let us love one another; for love is of God."—1 John 4:7.

12:01 p.m. today. He said he let her go then because she wanted to attend the funeral of a friend, Mrs. Lee McCracken, in Butler today.

George Hauser read letters from Rev. Rowland White of Wilmington, Pa., and from Rev. Mitchell Ancker of Chicago, accepting invitations to the centennial and also consenting to be the speakers at the morning service, and at the afternoon rally—after a covered dish dinner.

Mr. Ancker served the Gap church about 18 months, after he graduated from theological school. During that time he was ordained at his home church in Philadelphia. He married the former Eleanor McKelvey of Water Gap. They spent some months in Europe while Mr. Ancker continued his studies. He has served a pastorate in New York State and for some years a large church in Chicago.

Rev. White had a long and successful pastorate of the Gap church. He left it to enter the Navy as a chaplain during the first World War and distinguished himself by remarkable bravery and self-sacrificing care for his men when his boat was twice torpedoed. Another outstanding speaker will be Dr. J. Christie Wilson of Princeton, who will be the speaker at the Saturday night banquet. Dr. Wilson has often ministered to the Presbyterian Church in Water Gap.

This rocked Janie's mother back on her heels, and sent your reporter around to see Dr. Robert Eaves, executive secretary of the NEA's department of elementary school principals, to find out what's cooking in the first grade these days.

Eaves said, plenty.

"The greatest change, doctor?" "Twenty years ago," he said, "we still had the idea children should progress exactly alike. Now we know that's impossible. I like to compare learning to read with learning to walk. Some youngsters may be able to walk at 13 months and others not until they're 20 months old. Yet 20 years later the one who walked at 13 months won't necessarily be the better walker."

"Reading is the same way. Children simply don't get ready to read at the same time."

Eaves thinks another great change in elementary education comes in the parents' attitude toward the school and the teachers' attitude toward the parents.

In the old days, he said, a teacher figured the way she taught school was her own business, and parents, like fire engines, were summoned only in case of trouble.

Now parents and teachers work together more, he said, and both profit by it.

"You know," Eaves said, "the new crop of parents who came on after the war are showing far more interest in our schools. They're much more alert, and much more concerned about education. There's an eagerness there."

It was partly to meet this eagerness that "Janie" was prepared.

(The booklet, by the way, may be ordered from the National Education Assn., 1202 16th St., N.W., Washington 6, D.C. It costs 50 cents.)

Dr. Eaves have any reassuring words for the first graders' parents who worry how Janie or Junior is getting along?

"The best test is whether he's enjoying school," Eaves said. "If he's happy and likes it, the chances are he's getting along fine."

And if he doesn't?

"If he doesn't like it, and is sour, then look out. You're really got something to worry about."

David S. Wright, Philanthropist, Dies At Dunkirk

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—

David S. Wright, 89, wealthy seed company executive and philanthropist who once offered Gen. Douglas MacArthur a job at $100,000 a year, died today at his apartment home a few hours after being taken ill.

Wright, whose battles with the federal government over seed germination tests and packaging labels kept the U. S. district attorney's office busy for years, lent or gave this western New York city more than a million dollars during his lifetime.

During the depression years, when Dunkirk's municipal treasury was close to empty, Wright financed city payrolls.

Wright was a great admirer of General MacArthur. When MacArthur was relieved as commander in the Far East, Wright offered him an executive position with the Wright Seed Co. MacArthur did not accept.

Gap Church Arranges For Centennial

DELAWARE WATER GAP—

The Centennial Planning Committee of the Presbyterian Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gray. They heard of the arrangements to have the new carpet, purchased by the Women's Auxiliary, placed in the church in time for the Centennial, Oct. 15, 16, 17.

On Oct. 3, at 2:30 p. m., all men of the church are asked to meet at the church to look after necessary matters before the carpet-layers begin.

Rev. Luther Markin announced that James Anthony and Roger Akers are perfecting plans for the concert to be given Oct. 15. The Pocono Male Chorus and several outstanding vocalists will sing. A silver offering will be taken.

Farmer Gored To Death By Prize Bull

EASTON, Pa., Sept. 17 (AP)—A 75-year-old farmer was gored fatally by his prize bull today as he sought to place a chain about the animal's neck in the barnyard of his home five miles north of Easton.

After killing Stewart Uhler, the 1,300-pound bull charged Uhler's son Wilbur, 39, but backed off before the jabbing prongs of a pitchfork wielded by the younger man. Using the pitchfork to keep the enraged animal at bay, Wilbur Uhler was able to drag his father's body out of the barnyard.

Northampton County authorities who listed Uhler's death as accidental did not offer any explanation for the bull's attack. The animal was shot and killed a short time after the tragedy.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
